AUDIT EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

The farm is dedicated to the conventional production of cantaloupe melons for export to the United States. The farm uses water from several wells located within the same operation but on the Palmilla farm, for all the activities carried out on it: irrigation, fertigation, pesticide application, cleaning and sanitation, etc. There is a drip irrigation system installed and a reservoir where the water is stored. During the audit it was confirmed that there are melons planted in different stages in lots (identified as shifts), as well as some others in preparation for planting. The field staff that works on this farm is the same as that working on the Palmilla Farm, so the same number of workers was recorded for both farms, but they are divided between the activities of both. The boundaries, cultivation areas, sanitary services, rest areas, wells, reservoir and warehouse of supplies were inspected.
